Dear College Students,

Welcome to the Vancouver College of Counsellor Training, where many stimulating and enriching opportunities for personal growth and professional development can be achieved.

Our diplomas, specialized certificates, and certificate programs are offered to both new students and experienced practitioners already working in community service agencies or private practice. All programs and courses at VCCT are available to Canadian and International Students both on-campus or through distance education.

Students who enroll at VCCT may be interested in personal growth, exploring a new career, completing a College Diploma for its own value or as a step towards further University training, or to enhance and upgrade their practitioner skills and abilities.

Courses described in this catalogue are designed to provide adequate theoretical background knowledge of counselling and practical skill training, which can be immediately applied to counselling situations. Our courses are based on the most current and widely recognized research, techniques, academic and ethical standards in the counselling field today. VCCT is accredited by the Private Career Training Institutions Agency (PCTIA) of British Columbia.

Our instructors, professional and practicing psychologists, counsellors and therapists are able to use their own practical wisdom and insight gained throughout their careers to enrich the learning process for VCCT students and are dedicated to providing a meaningful educational experience.

We look forward to discussing and providing you with a pathway for personal goals, professional development and transferable career skills in the fascinating and rewarding field of professional counselling.

Sincerely,

Dale T. Brooks, Ph.D.; R.Psych.
Director of Academic Programs, VCCT

About Vancouver College Of Counsellor Training

The Vancouver College of Counsellor Training (VCCT) is a private, post-secondary institution dedicated to providing training opportunities for professional development, personal growth and transferable skills in the field of professional counselling. VCCT is PCTIA accredited and a member of the Better Business Bureau (BBB).

Our Mission

To provide opportunities for students to learn current treatments provided by practitioners from a variety of training backgrounds and areas of expertise, so that these students may contribute to and participate in the profession of counselling.

Our Philosophy

VCCT is committed to offering an undergraduate level program in applied counselling skills that is accessible to all students with a genuine interest in furthering the personal growth of themselves and others, while maintaining the highest possible academic, ethical and professional standards relevant to the counselling field.

This philosophy is followed so that students can learn to develop effective treatment methods and further increase the effectiveness of these methods by sharing and learning from peers and instructors within a structure of reporting and evaluation.

Our Vision

“Making Counselling Skills Public Knowledge for a Therapeutic Community”

When students are given opportunities to gain knowledge of and develop counselling skills and procedures, they are able to provide a positive influence on the lives of others.

Our Approach

The VCCT curriculum offers a diploma, areas of specialized interest and certificate programs enabling students to pursue their personal achievements and educational goals according to their interests and abilities.

Our Goals:

1. To give students the opportunity to explore a new career choice.
2. To give students the knowledge and skills needed to become a Professional Counsellor.
3. To offer current practitioners the option to upgrade their skills and abilities.

The Vancouver College of Counsellor Training provides education based on clinically sound, eclectic and multicultural approaches to counselling. VCCT instruction encourages research-based techniques; by-passing what might be called fringe or controversial methods. Self-awareness work and the acquisition of skills through practice exercises are fundamental components of all courses at the Vancouver College of Counsellor Training.

Frequently Asked Questions

Academic Requirements

Admission Requirements

- Grade 12 or mature student status 19+
- Emotional stability
- Good verbal and written skills in English
- Application Form reviewed and approved

A review of the application may take place for any one or more of the following circumstances:

- Past or current substance abuse or addiction
- Criminal record
- Current or past psychiatric hospitalization, diagnosis, medication, suicidal tendencies, or unresolved crises

Maintaining Student Status

The requirements for maintaining student status are outlined in the Student Reference Manual. It is mandatory that on-campus students complete all assignments and exams, participate in a positive manner during class and fulfill attendance requirements. Distance education students are required to successfully complete their assignments within the administrative deadlines specified on their assignment sheet unless they arrange for an extension with the Admissions Department.

Attendance

Full attendance is required at VCCT. To facilitate class planning and to be courteous, students are to leave a message for instructor(s) at reception if he or she will be late, absent or require an early dismissal from class with a valid reason. Instructors will record lateness on class attendance sheets. A deduction of 1% of the students' grade will result for every hour missed to a total of 4% on any one day. As per Student Loan Regulations, any course with lateness or absences totalling 12 hours will result in an automatic repeat of the course or withdrawal from the program depending on the student's individual attendance record. Students may opt to repeat or refresh any course, provided seating is available, at a discounted rate to enhance their own learning. Students are put on a wait list where class size is full.

Participation

Positive, appropriate and respectful behaviour and speech is required when participating in any class discussions, debates or projects.

Marking

All courses are marked with standard letter grades. In the event of an "Incomplete" for an on campus course, the student may repeat the course or submit the necessary assignments. A "No Pass" mark is assigned when the student does not complete the course requirements or requests a withdrawal from the course. When distance education course assignments are not completed within the three-week period, the student may request an extension from the Records and Distant Education Coordinator. However, before the extension is granted, financial aid requirements will have to be considered. In the event there is a dispute over a mark/grade given by an instructor, the student can report this dispute to the Director of Academic Programs who will review and determine the final mark/grade.

Method of Evaluation

The method of evaluation for all VCCT programs and courses is based upon quality of completed assignments, exams and demonstrated skills such as understanding the course objectives and concepts.

In addition, students will be evaluated on their counselling techniques and skills. In practicum courses and clinical supervision, evaluation is on-going through client and instructor feedback and case conferencing. All VCCT course assignments and evaluations are designed as learning experiences.

Professional Association Membership

Monthly supervision of clinical work with clients is required of students/interns enrolled in the Diploma of Counselling Practice. The student/intern at this level is obligated to become a member of an approved association. (e.g., Canadian Professional Counsellors Association – CPCA)

Professional associations uphold counselling standards, provide on-going learning opportunities, enable students and graduates to remain involved and network with their colleagues in the helping professions and protect the public by monitoring and investigating complaints. An approved association must be a non-profit society having rigorous membership criteria, criminal records check, a complaint and disciplinary procedure, and a code of ethics designed for the protection of the public seeking help.

VCCT graduates may be eligible for membership in the Canadian Professional Counsellors Association, which entitles the use of the designation “Registered Professional Counsellor” (R.P.C.) upon completion of Clinical Supervision. The “Registered Professional Counsellor” designation is not a legislated license, but rather a qualified membership in a professional association, which provides the member with insurance and other benefits.

Professional Liability Insurance

Professional liability insurance is a standard component of professional counselling practice. VCCT students enrolled in the Diploma of Counselling Practice required to hold professional liability insurance. The fee is approximately $250/year. This protects both counsellor and client in all counselling situations such as student practice exercises, volunteer work, agency placement and intern private practice. Interns completing their Clinical Supervision towards their Diploma of Counselling Practice and graduates of VCCT may obtain professional liability coverage through their membership in the Canadian Professional Counsellors Association.

DIPLOMA OF COUNSELLING PRACTICE

Formats Available:

Off-campus Internship

Prerequisites:

- Diploma of Professional Counselling or equivalent
- Good verbal and written skills in English
- Psychological inventory
- Professional liability insurance
- Professional association membership (i.e. CPCA)
- Two letters of recommendation from instructors. Additional letters of recommendation from specific individuals may be required for Specialized Certificate Programs
- Approval from the Director of Academic Programs
- Criminal record check

Requirements:

- Internship/practicum consisting of 24 months clinically supervised by a VCCT approved supervisor.
- A minimum of 4 counselling sessions per month from the 3rd month onward as well as 2 hours of clinical supervision per month.

Overview:

The Diploma of Counselling Practice consists of a 24-month practicum clinically supervised by an approved VCCT supervisor. The practicum will provide the graduate with professional standing and will acknowledge their ability to offer independent services to the public.

Throughout 24 months of clinical supervision, the Intern fine-tunes the many counselling skills and techniques learned during the earlier studies. With consistent support and direction from the Clinical Supervisor, the Intern develops seasoned approaches to real life situations in a maturing development of therapeutic work with clients.

Internship Options:

Interns may opt to participate in any combination of the following Internship formats as available.

- Private Practice Development
- Volunteer or Remunerated Placement within an Agency or Clinic
- Volunteer and Remunerated Internship at the VCCT Clinic (must be on approved list)

Clinical Supervision/Internship

Interns must conduct a minimum of four counselling sessions per month from the third month onward. Interns will engage in a minimum of two hours of scheduled case conferencing each month and will immediately teleconference with the Clinical Supervisor about any crisis situations. During case conferencing, tapes or verbatim transcripts of counselling sessions may be required as well as case histories of new clients. The Intern will receive feedback on counselling style and choice of interventions. Case conferencing will also include discussion of treatment planning for clients as well as transference and counter-transference issues. Clients may complete "Counsellor Assessment" feedback sheets, which are given to the Intern and presented to the Clinical Supervisor for discussion.

An Intern has up to one year from the date of enrollment in the Diploma of Counselling Practice to begin clinical supervision and may interrupt clinical supervision for a maximum of six months. Interns who re-apply after the maximum allowable delay or interruption may be required to take refresher courses, unless prior approval has been obtained.

During clinical supervision, the Intern pays monthly supervision fees or, if they are in placement, arranges for that agency or clinic to provide free supervision if an approved supervisor is on staff.

Interns are required to submit monthly statistical reports signed by their supervisor within 30 days of the reporting period in order to receive credit.

VOLUNTEER PLACEMENT

The volunteer placement enables students to volunteer at an agency in their community in conjunction with their Diploma program.

- Students meet with an Admissions Advisor to discuss areas of interest regarding community relations
- Students can create their own schedule after classes with the agency of their choice.
- Prerequisites: completion of 4 courses including clinical counselling skills.
- Student requirements: Placement Contract, Learning Objectives Form, Supervisory Evaluation Form, a copy of the Code of Ethics, and follow policies and procedures.

Distance Education

Who is a typical student of distance education?

A typical student of distance education may be an individual who is working full-time, has personal, business and family obligations and/or commitments, but would like to pursue a new career or further their education.

Will I receive guidance and support during my program or course through distance education?

Yes. An instructor will be assigned to you for the duration of your program or course. The instructor will evaluate and mark your assignments and will be available at specific times for academic assistance and mentoring.

We also offer an email-sharing program where students may email each other and share ideas, discuss assignment topics or even get together to assist one another. Any student wanting to share their email address with other students must sign a consent/permission form to release such information.

Review Packages?

A Review Package is provided for specific distance education courses to supplement the required text and related materials. The package is mailed out with the course materials and cost is included in the tuition fee.

PLEASE NOTE:

Distance education is only available through the Vancouver campus. Please speak with an Admissions Advisor 604-683-2442 or 1-800-667-3272 for further information and instruction or visit our website at www.vcct.ca.
